

UCLA HISTORY of SCIENCE, MEDICINE, and TECHNOLOGY

Spring 2017 Colloquium Schedule

All talks are held in Bunche 5288 at 4pm unless otherwise noted.

April 3: Alexandra Hui (Mississippi State University)

“Listening to Extinction: Imagined Ecologies in the First Half of the Twentieth Century”

April 10: Jan-Gerrit Schuurman (Visiting Scientist & Artist in Residence Max Planck Institute for Human Development in Berlin)

“Description and Experience: Why Representation Strategies Matter: From Early Renaissance and 17th Century Still-Life Painting to 21st Century Cancer Screening”

April 24: Sarah Ehlers (University of Leicester, UK)

“Sleeping Sickness Research in Colonial Africa 1900-1950: Biomedical Knowledge Production between Metropolitan Laboratories and Colonial Camps”

May 8: Peter Sachs Collopi (Mellon Postdoctoral Research Fellow in the Digital Humanities Program at the University of Southern California)

“Noosphere to Videosphere: Evolutionary Panpsychism from Henri Bergson to Media Art”

May 22: Sarah Tracey (UCLA, Assistant Adjunct Professor, CSW and ISG)

“Taste No. 5: Imperial Japan, Protein Chemistry, and Race-making with Monosodium Glutamate (MSG)”

June 5: Eric Scerri (UCLA)

“A Tale of Seven Scientists”