Thomas Barton is an active associate of UCLA’s CMRS Center for Early Global Studies, serves on the External Board for the CMRS-CEGS journal Viator, and is the president of the American Academy of Research Historians of Medieval Spain. His first two monographs, Contested Treasure: Jews and Authority in the Crown of Aragon (Penn State, 2015) and Victory’s Shadow: Conquest and Governance in Medieval Catalonia (Cornell, 2019), received numerous awards. He is in the process of publishing two further monographs on diocese restoration and episcopal power. His current project examines the communal context of interfaith violence in the later medieval Western Mediterranean using a mixture of royal and municipal documentation.
