Winter 2016 Colloquium Schedule
All talks are held in Bunche 5288 at 4pm unless otherwise noted.

January 11: Matthew Sargent, Digital Humanities, University of Southern California: “Marriage institutions and the formation of cross-cultural knowledge networks in early modern Southeast Asia”

February 8: Jean Pierre Beaud (CIRST, Université de Québec à Montréal) “What is a population? Reflections on two Statistical Descriptions of Canada”

February 22: James Secord (History and Philosophy of Science, Cambridge University) “Global Geology and the Tectonics of Empire”

February 29: Caroline Ford (History, UCLA) “Natural Interests: The Contest over Environment in Modern France” (co-sponsored by the History Department)

March 7: Mary Terrall (History, UCLA) “Michel Adanson’s Imagined Plantations: Secrecy, Botanical Knowledge, and French Colonial Policy after the Seven Years’ War”